ADLAI E. STEVENSON,

For Congress,

The first of the almost invariably exaggerated effects of great disasters like the one at Galveston, but this case has proven an exception to the rule. It has been found that the number of lives lost will be far greater than first reported and the property loss is appalling. In fact it is impossible to estimate the actual and consequential property loss but it would be the only of the 147 export harbors in the United States it ranked fifth in importance. It was the largest cotton exporting point in the country, and will hardly recuperate in time to handle the new crops, which is liable to cause complications, as it is probable that its chief rival, Port Arthur, is too badly crippled to handle the crops. This will throw the bulk of this business to New Orleans, which of course will tax its facilities to the utmost, as the large increase was unexpected. Galveston was also a great exporting point for grain. Its elevators had a capacity of 2,500,000 bushels and could handle 70,000,000 bushels during the season. The lumber interest was almost as important as those of cotton and grain. The island on which Galveston is situated and which bears the same name is 30 miles long, three wide, generally level with an elevation of three to five feet above the water. It was the headquarters of the pirate Lafitte from 1817 to 1821. The city was incorporated in 1838 and by the recent census was shown to have a population of 38,500. It had a number of manufacturing interests, schools, churches, banks, and newspapers, and is the seat of a Roman Catholic Bishopric. It was seized by the Union forces Oct. 8, 1862, but regained by the Confederates Jan. 1, 1863. It has been a remarkably healthy place, having been free from epidemic of every kind since 1857. With the exception of a $2,000,000 fire in 1883, it has had uninterrupted prosperity since the close of the civil war.

The editor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL is overwhelmed with gratitude over the favorable comment of the State press on his acceptance of the position of editor-in-chief of the Lexington Morning Democrat and takes this method of returning his heartfelt thanks. We hope to be able to fulfill their predictions, though we are fully aware of our lack of capacity for the magnitude of the undertaking of establishing a daily newspaper, even with the strong backing that we will have.

An effort is being made in the Legislature to supplant the square under the electric device with a circle. This would be unfortunate for the republicans, for the bulk of their voters, being unable to read, are compelled to depend on the device to see how to vote, and they would more than likely mistake the circle for a picture of a quarter as the price of votes, which would be so disappointing, they would stamp under the rooster for spite.

THIS is a great country in every particular. We have more territory, the highest cities, the greatest and the largest rivers, the highest mountains of any nation on earth, but unfortunately our disasters, of which Galveston was an example, are nearly always as great in proportion. It is very gratifying, though, that the spirit of benevolence is always sufficiently great to relieve the effect of the disasters as far as it may be done.

SUCH disasters as the one which has overtaken Galveston, develop the best and worst sides of human nature. While the humanity of the civilized world has been touched, and contributions are pouring in from all quarters to relieve the living, those in charge in the ground have been compelled to fill a number of hands in human shape to prevent their robbing the dead.

THERE is no word in the Chinese language that conveys an intimation of what we term public opinion, nor is there a synonym for patriotism. - Courier Journal. The object of words is to convey ideas, and as the Chinese are destitute of ideas on the subjects named, they have no need of the words.

"GO HIGHER" is the title of an editorial in which the Commercial Tribune entreats the voters to support the republican ticket. "Go lower" would be more appropriate.

SPAIN is to begin the 24th of October. It is to be hoped that the additional hours will enable that belated nation to catch up with the procession.

A SHIRT waist manufacturer at New York has failed already. The fact was a shortest lived of any of the silly ones that have flourished for a season.

At Elizabethtown Saturday, Collector Yerkes dodged the question again as to whether he will pardon the assassin convicts and suspects by saying: "I regret that any man who would say that he would pardon a man in advance of his election is not worthy of the office of honest man, and if you believe I would do such a thing, I beg you to vote against me!" Too thin, Mr. Yerkes, you have read the testimony in the Powers case. Will you pardon him or not? Don't wait around on your dignity so much, but answer categorically. As for you pledged to pardon? Asking Gov. Beckham what he will do as to the Yankee, who would answer a question by asking another. Yes or no, Mr. Yerkes!

IN one of his oratorical flights in Indiana, where he is the guest of a pardoned governor, Fugitive Taylor, with fire in his eye, said as he smote his manly breast: "If I had the history of blood me, starting me in the face," etc. With an ordinary man this would seem the superlative of nonsense, but not so with Taylor. He is a regular Janus and history behind him could scare him to the face with little effort. A deacon in the church, he put on a sanctimonious face in front, while the one in the rear chuckled over the way he was going to have Goebel removed so that no one would suspect him of complicity in the murder. Dr. Jekel and Mr. Hyde never had a stronger counterpart.

IN delving among the official papers at Frankfort, Senator George T. Patterson came across this paragraph in Gov. Bradley's message to the Legislature in 1898: "If the executive should determine to disperse the General Assembly can any sane man doubt that anarchy and revolution would be the natural and unavoidable sequence?" The question was so fully answered last winter at Frankfort as to make comment unnecessary.

GOV. PINGREE, of Michigan, says he will hold his nose, vote for McKloy and hope for the best. By holding his nose he may avoid the unpleasant odor that attaches to the Mark Hanna administration, but hoping against hope is a rather silly performance. The best plan would be to hit him and the trusts a lick between the eyes by voting for Bryan, who represents the great common people in the fight on trusts and combines.

THOSE who have formed an opinion of the personal appearance of Gov. J. C. W. Beckham by the newspaper cuts of him would be agreeably surprised to see him as he is. He is not the long face, sanctimonious looking son-of-a-bitch that the papers make him, but a handsome, intelligent, courteous and pleasant gentleman, whom the people will make no mistake to select as their chief executive.

RICHARD CROKER, the head of the Tammany organization, contends in a lengthy article that a boss in politics is as necessary as the boss of any other business. Judge T. Z. Morrow, of Somerset, laid that principle down in an elaborate and excellent speech a number of years ago.

WHY should the assassination papers make light of the attempt on John S. Rhea's life, unless they glory in that despicable work? All law abiding, law loving citizens deplore any attempt at violence and those who do not are enemies to the State.

PATTERSON'S creek in Whitley county will celebrate Caleb Powers' birthday next Saturday by a big republican rally. We suppose they will rejoice over the fact that he was given a life sentence instead of having his neck broken.

SIXTEEN men were overpowered by one boy at Richmond, Va., while under the influence of hypnotism. As the republicans have so far failed in every other way to accomplish anything with it, they had better try hypnotism.

THE assassination organs have renewed their old howls because the Jas. Howard jury is composed of democrats. They should remember that the republicans on the Powers jury were more inclined to hang him than the jury.

THE Philippine commission is to expend two millions of dollars in making roads and bridges. With these improved means for locomotion our troops may yet catch Aguinaldo.

Isn't it up to Judge Tinsley now to tell what he was congratulating Howard on? Surely so good a man as he would not think the role of assassin put a feather in anybody's cap.

THERE is no longer any doubt about the republicans carrying the 11th district. They have begun to flood it with money and money talks.

THOSE dinner pills were evidently not filled with the right kind of food as strikes are springing up all over the country.

MAINE didn't go hell bent as usual, but she went all the same republican.

POLITICAL.

Gov. Beckham and McCreehy spoke to 8,000 people at Mayfield yesterday. It is said that the republicans are preparing to flood the Eleventh district with money.

Bryan will make only one speech in Kentucky - at Louisville, Oct. 6. He does not think he is needed to carry the State for democracy.

The Louisville Brownies have thrown off the mask and have come out openly to work for Yerkes. Chairman "Roaring Bill" Sweeney in a address issued Saturday announces that headquarters will be opened at once and that the Brown men will begin an active campaign.

Ex-Senator Cannon, of Utah, who walked out of the republican National convention of 1896 with Senator Teller, has stayed out. He is for Bryan and Stevenson.

The action of the president and Congress on the Porto Rico tariff question is big enough issue by itself for a whole presidential campaign, and there is plenty else.

Gov. Beckham has appointed D. P. Logan and Capt. E. W. Lillard members of the board of commissioners of the Kentucky School for the Deaf.

John B. Stanchfield, the democratic nominee for governor of New York, like the present incumbent of that office, is a wearer of nose-glasses, but, unlike Teddy's, they do not distort his vision.

The democratic committee of the 7th appellate district met at Mt. Sterling Saturday and issued a call for a convention at Winchester Sept. 20 to nominate a candidate for appellate judge. County conventions will be held the 24th.

At the democratic conference at Indianapolis Thursday, it was announced that the National committee regarded Indiana and Kentucky as the battle ground of the campaign, and that both States would be thoroughly canvassed by able speakers.

A republican rally will be held on Patterson's Creek in Whitley county, next Saturday to celebrate the birthday of Caleb Powers, who is in under conviction for conspiring to procure the assassination of Gov. Goebel. Patterson's Creek is the birthplace of Powers.

Col. Bill Thorne says: "I don't know who killed Goebel, but if I was on a jury I would hang any man who had a pardon to his pocket, or tried to leave the State in disguise." The color is right. The possession of such a pardon is prima facie evidence of guilt, as light certainly is.

Gov. Beckham and Congressman Wheeler spoke at Bowling Green Friday night to what was probably the largest political gathering in the history of the Third district. The crowd was estimated at from 8,000 to 9,000 people, and the speakers were cheered with an enthusiasm that could hardly have been more pronounced.

It has been decided to amend the election law as to require that the voter stamp in a circle one inch in diameter under the emblem instead of in a square around the device. The object of the change is to avoid the confusion as to the square about the emblem, and the square opposite the name of the candidate at the head of each ticket.

About 1,000 of the noisiest men ever gathered together at London, lined up in the court-house yard Saturday, each whooping and yelling for his candidate. After an all-day whoop and burrah it was finally agreed to divide the 18 votes of Laurel county among three candidates for circuit judge. W. N. Brown received seven votes, H. C. Everale seven and W. R. Ramsey four.

Mr. Yerkes is having good sized audiences at all his appointments. A great many democrats are turning out to hear him. So far he speaks only at towns that are reached by Pullman trains, and where there are hotels that are free from bad bugs and furnish a clean bunk with each course. Compared with Mr. Taylor, he is a much more-mannered man and he eats up his dinner with a knife, using only his fork. He never picks his teeth at the table, nor puts his hand on his hip pocket. To illustrate civil liberty people are very much pleased with his shape - though he does not travel in it, but in a Pullman. The general consensus among the plain people is that Yerkes is a very nice man, and among the editors, that it is not safe to say less for he has a big brother at Paris who enforces civil liberty with his fists. - Somerset Journal.

JIM HOWARD'S TRIAL.

In his statement of the case against James Howard for assassinating Goebel, Attorney Ben Williams said that the prosecution would show that W. S. Taylor determined to remove Goebel by violence, that the deed was to have been committed Jan. 28, but was postponed on account of the failure of Howard to arrive, that he said on his way to Frankfort, where he went without any business whatever, that "they need a good shot down there and I am going there;" that at London he conferred with the circuit judge of the district and the county attorney of Laurel county, and from bits of his conversation dropped there we will show that these men afterward said that Goebel would be killed and that Taylor had a pardon written out for the man who would do it. We will show by members of the household, said Judge Williams, what the mission of the accused man was. The murder of Goebel was fashioned after a crime committed in the home county of this defendant and at which he was present. The case I refer to is that of Tom Baker, like Goebel, shot from behind a window curtain from the house of Bev White. Baker had been accused of the murder of Will White, a brother of that noted family. Howard was in the executive building when the shot was fired and escaped from that building by the rear way, leaping over a fence to get to the street, where he began to establish his alibi. We will show you that the change in his appearance by the removal of his mustache was done for the purpose of changing his general appearance to escape the consequence of this crime. Howard staid in Frankfort till Gov. Goebel died, and then fled away to London, where he was saluted by a friend with, "Jim, I am glad to see you and want to congratulate you on what you did at Frankfort." Judge Williams closed with the declaration that the defendant, if proven guilty, should receive

The city council of Lawrenceburg sent $50 to the sufferers at Galveston. The Cross reports the first root of the season yesterday. William Hallett shot and killed Jas. Jenkins at Lexington over a card game. Rear Admiral Montgomery Seward died of apoplexy at his summer home, Westerville, N. Y. The middle-of-the-road populists of the Third district nominated H. E. Glenn for Congress. New York city has contributed $134,394 to the Galveston sufferers. Chicago has raised over $60,000. John P. Shannon, supreme dictator of the Knights of Honor of the United States, is dead at Elberton, Ga. Gen. E. H. Hobson, of Greensburg, was chosen president of the National Association of Mexican Veterans. John H. Ludwig, formerly of Harrodsburg, was given a life sentence at Lexington for killing Martin Sweeney. Doc Martin, a farm hand, is to jail at Clarksville, Tenn., charged with breaking his wife's neck with a fence rail. At Newhope, Tenn., Paul Baver stabbed his cousin, John Wheeler, to death to a fight, which was the result of a quarrel over a woman. W. H. Parker, colored, of Montgomery, Ala., is attempting to establish near Versailles, this State, an industrial for colored boys and girls. Paul Kruger has fled to the Portuguese territory and his action is regarded as indicative of an early end of the hostilities in South Africa. Arthur Madison stabbed James Ellison in the head with a knife at Somerset yesterday, and he is in a dying condition. Madison claims self defense. At Mansfield, O., Ephraim Bassinger, an elder of the Dawle church with two of his followers, was escorted to a train by a mob and hustled out of the city. Charles Winn, who shot three men at Dry Ridge Saturday night, was released at Williamstown on $1,000 bond. He claims that the men attacked him and that he shot in self-defense. Peter Hartman, of Barker, Ind., was attacked, robbed and murdered by three highwaymen on Van Buren street, near State, in Chicago, in broad daylight, and his murderers escaped. Order has been brought out of chaos at Galveston. Horse cars are running and the water service has been partially resumed. More troops have been ordered out to relieve the exhausted guards. As a result of a runaway at Richmond, Mrs. Napoleon Terrill's skull was fractured and she may die. Her daughter, Cricket, suffered a broken ankle, and a niece, Lucy Norris, was bruised about the face. The signal service officers say that they notified the Galvestonians in advance to prepare for the coming storm. It is a pity they didn't tell them what preparations to make so that they could have avoided the terrible disaster. An official statement by Mayor Jones, of Galveston, places the number of dead as between 5,000 and 8,000. Ten thousand persons are homeless and destitute. Relief is being rushed to the afflicted city from all parts of the country. The National executive board of the United Mine Workers ordered the anthracite miners to strike yesterday. Some idea of the magnitude of such a strike may be gained from the estimate that should it continue for two months the loss in wages will amount to $8,400,000, loss to railroads, $20,000,000, and loss to mine operators, $20,000,000. It is stated that the average wages of the men is less than $250 a year, being forced to mine 2,700 to 4,000 pounds for a ton and receiving no concessions from the operators at all.

The Cumberland Falls Co. made an assignment yesterday at Louisville. The hotel and a small amount of land are its only assets, valued at $6,000, which about equals the liabilities.

WHAT TRUSTS DO FOR FARMERS.

The democratic campaign committee has taken up the argument advanced by the republicans that the farmer is prospering under republican rule and turned it about to show that in reality he pays more for everything because of the trusts. Here are the points made by the democrats:

It requires 50 per cent. more wheat to buy a stove than it did in 1896.

It requires 20 bushels more corn to buy a wagon than in 1896.

It requires 700 per cent. more corn or wheat to buy a copper kettle than in 1896.

It requires twice as much corn to buy a coil of rope than in 1896.

It requires 40 per cent. more grain to buy a hoe, a rake or a shovel than in 1896.

A set of common wheels that cost $7 in 1896, now costs $12.

The price of cultivators and other farm implements has gone up proportionately.

Galvanized barbed wire costs from $4 to $4.50 per hundred more than it did in 1896.

It requires 40 per cent. more corn or cotton to buy a pound of sugar than in 1896.

You have to pay 40 per cent. more for glass than in 1896.

Freight rates have climbed back to the exorbitant figures of a few years ago.

The price of oil, coal, lumber, tools and hardware has gone up from 40 to 100 per cent.

And all these things have been done by trusts.

A trust robs you of walking or sleeping, eating or drinking, working or resting, living or dying, and the trusts trust gets you in the end.
